ABOUT ME

I'm a recent graduate from Bina Sarana Informatika University, majoring in Information System. During my studies, I worked on various projects that boosted my technical skills, especially in MySQL and web development. I'm also skilled in Microsoft Office, which helps me with administrative tasks and presentations. I'm passionate about continuous learning and can quickly adapt to new technologies. With strong communication skills and a detail-oriented approach, I'm ready to make a meaningful contribution in a dynamic work environment.
